A Much-Buttered CROWN

A soft-drink bottle was discovered in a rice field in the Yonezaki neighborhood in Rikuzen-Takata City. As it turned out, it was the sole surviving bottle from the Kanda Orchard, where I recently volunteered. Although the bottle was much the worse for wear, it had not broken open and the contents was intact. Seeing this bottle brings to mind the "Pinetree of Hope" on the beach at Takada-Matsubara. Like the pinetree, seeing the way the bottle clings to its cap shows us a model of how those who have lost many friends and loved-ones can continue to "live strong." Peko

How to use scoops with on stress (NO. 1)

I am a gardener, and here to tell you easy usage of scoops for your reference. You need to know the most efficient way to dig the ground since sometimes you work through out the day. Here are the action to dig the ground divided into 3 steps.

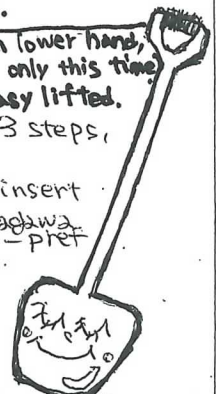

① The first action is to insert a scoop into the ground. After deciding the point, make the scoop stand with right angle. Put your right foot on the right shoulder of the scoop, then place your weight on that. When the ground is stiff, you give a strong ride as if you kick. Just ride on that needless of excessive force.

③ At the end you just lift it with lower hand, close to hilt (this side of hand works only this time). Less than 2 kilo of soil should be easy lifted. One digging action, divided into 3 steps, make it easy with minimum force.

Tomorrow, I'll tell you about the point to insert a scoop next. Shigeki: Mitsunaga / Kanagawa-pref

Have the Pleasure Spirits

Thank you for your work, everyday. Joined since this May, I have been mostly supporting devastated areas for 3 weeks when 'a legendary sanma team' has debut. Having stand there at the first time, I have overwhelmed and have lost words by 3D-world but not 2D-world broadcasted through medias everyday. Silent pray at 14:46 on 11 May, two months after the earthquake, with 100 members who worked together in Rikuzentakata has bec me the most unforgettable time for me. I am not sure how much I could help for recovery though I will be carrying out my task one by one, that is not with self-satisfaction but with pleasure spirits.

I would like to take this opportunity to show my gratitude to 'Magokoro Volunteer Network' which accepted me during such a busy season in GW and think much of individuals, as well as to my family who have seen me off with smile even if I am not at home for 3 months. Thank you very much!!!
